

National Careers Week

Catcote Futures got involved in National Careers Week, a celebration of careers guidance in education, aimed at developing awareness and excitement around ongoing opportunities.

Here at Catcote Futures we used the week to look at our lessons, the knowledge and experience they give us, the skills we need to do them and the jobs they could be preparing us for.

There were lots of activities going on during the week and learners came together on Friday to share their experiences.