

New work placement, new opportunities offering new experiences.

Elegant Sprayings opened their doors again to the young people following the STEPs employability programme. Bradley really got to grips with his tasks during his first work 'session' on Friday. Bradley will be attending this work experience with Kenny Layton every week, to experience working life, learn new skills and build his confidence in the world of work.

Thank you, Elegant Sprayings for your continued support to The STEPs programme and the young people who attend it.

Good luck Bradley with your first step into working life!
