

Picnic and Paint - The Fish

Another “Picnic and Paint” session saw learners visit The Fishermans Arms on the Headland. Learners enjoyed looking at all the artifacts and the memorabilia around the place, they were all drawn to different things and completed a variety of sketches. To encourage observation skills learners took part in an exercise where they were required to hide their paper under the table and stare at whatever it was they were drawing (this is harder than it sounds!). Learners walked up to St Hilda’s to draw a seascape and the church itself. They also admired the various murals along the way.

A big thank you to Glen and Hazel for their hospitality.
