

The Print Factory

Learners from the reprographics group at Catcote Futures were blown away with what they saw when visiting the Print Factory in Hartlepool. They were amazed and very impressed when watching plain sheets wizzing through the press at a rate of 10,000 per hour and coming out the other side as beautifully printed menus. They found out about different job roles and the tasks involved with each and also identified part of the job they felt they could do.

Catcote Futures would like to thank the Print Factory for arranging this visit during our careers week and particularly thank Mark for creating a very informative and memorable experience.
