

Alice House Hospice

Work Experience Placement

Phoebe is a learner on our Step's Employability Pathway, which is a study programme to promote independence and employability Skills. This term Phoebe has started on her work placement at Alice House Hospice. She undertook an induction and spent time 'shadowing' staff within the organisation. She has been developing a variety of core skills for work, including teamwork, communication and problem solving skills. She enjoys chatting to customers and has excellent customer service skills.

Her confidence has grown, she is now carrying out a wide variety of tasks independently. These include pricing garments using the pricing gun and merchandising stock.

Well done Phoebe and thank you to Alice House Hospice for again recognising the potential of our students.
