

Work Experience

Jewellery Making

This week Callum has had his very first official silversmithing training at the Little Silver Kiln. He has demonstrated that he has a 'real creative eye' and a flair for jewellery making. He has been practicing cutting straight lines on copper using bespoke equipment. He has applied lots of skills including speaking and listening, teamwork and problem solving.

Well done Callum! This is fantastic news, keep up the good work.